Truss

Description

Particularly well adapted to handle harsh climates, Adventure RZ produces high yields of firm truss tomatoes. The generative nature of Adventure RZ means that it sets well, even under hot conditions, whilst the strong vigour allows it to perform in mid-summer without losing size, with an average fruit weight consistently between 140-160g. Adventure RZ also handles cooler conditions well, and with mildew resistance aids in crop management. Adventure RZ is well suited to heated greenhouse crops, and unheated greenhouse crops in warm areas.
