

Rawley RZ Knox™

Cos

Description

Rawley RZ is a small green cos lettuce suited to the twin pack segment. Rawley will perform in the south east of Australia, predominately in the shoulder seasons, as well as Queensland in the winter and the shoulder timeslots. It has an upright plant habit, which makes it easy for cutting, and it will maintain its size and quality throughout the season. Rawley has a tidy appearance with blistered and standard green-coloured leaves.
